ABOUT

My educational and professional experience in architecture always helped me to appreciate furniture design as an integral part of the architecture. I joined NID with the interest of exploring more about furniture design, which further allowed me to develop my skills and interests in wood-metal-and bamboo working, prototyping, and exploring different materials.

Most of my experience comes from working with Bonito, freelancing with emerging start-ups, class room projects, internship at Furlenco & working as junior architect
